Listen to Doug Gunn of the Shut Down Berks Coalition to learn about the campaign to close this facility and what you can do to help.

The Berks County Family Detention Facility is a prison in Leesport, PA where immigrant families, including small children, are held.

Doug Gunn is a retired union cabinetmaker who is active with the Way Forward community, in Chester County, and the Shut Down Berks Coalition. He works with other members of the Coalition to organize monthly vigils at the Detention Center, lobby-visits to the governor's offices, call-in days, and other actions designed to advocate for the detainees.

The ultimate goal of the Shut Down Berks Coalition is to pressure the governor and the Pennsylvania Department of Human Services to close the facility.
